Muy Sres mios
Me es grato comunicar a Vds el resultado satisfactorio del nuevo examen quimico del 'Fluido Little' que acabo de practicar sobre una muestra de este especifico enviada por Vds a este laboratorio el 12 del corr. y fabricado por Morris Little e Hijo en Inglaterra.
Confrontando el analisis de esta muestra con mi analisis del mismo especifico practicado en Febrero de 1879 encuentro un aumento considerable en su grado de concentracion; su densidad es superior, la proporcion de fenoles contenidos en los aceites es mayor, y en una palabra lo considero no solo superior al producto primitivo, sino el mas concentrado y activo de cuantos de su clase he tenido ocasion de examinar hasta la fecha. Esta observacion se refiere, se entiende, esclusivamente a los especificos contra la sarna, que tienen por base los aceites Hidro carburados y fenoles del alquitran y que no deben su eficacia al arsenico, al azufre, o al tabaco, sustancias que no existen en el 'Fluido Little.' Apesar de su mayor concentracion el Fluido se mezcla con el agua fria con la misma facilidad y perfeccion como antes.
Me repito de Vds

Commons still discussing the Government Bills on Ireland. Debates very stormy and numerous calls to order.

FOREIGNERS IN THE PLATE.

The status of the foreigner in the River Plate is indeed a question of the very highest importance to this country, and one that perhaps will admit of no further postponement. Our very ably-edited colleague, El Nacional, in a rather latitudinarian article on Saturday evening treats on this biting topic, and in a spirit of enquiry asks, how comes it that European foreigners occupy the same status in the Plate as the Chinese in the United States? Neither, however, does the comparison or his apology for our anomalous position hold good. Our colleague discursively probes the cause and arrives at conclusions which reveal the very superficial views he takes of so deep a subject.

The question becomes all the more interesting when we recollect that to-day the tide of European emigration beats stronger on the shores of the Plate than on any other country in the world, save the United States; and if President Roca's programme of Rio Negro colonization be carried out, it is not improbable that at the close of this century the River Plate will, in its immigration returns, rival the great North American Union.

To bring the immigrant to this country, however, is but a mere question of administrative outlay, whilst to make him an Argentine citizen is the severest of all tasks. The mere passage of a law might make him in name what, perhaps, he never would be in heart, and it is to the more ethical bearing of this great subject that we confine our remarks. The foreigner remains the foreigner in the Plate because Argentines make him so; and, spite of the conflict of language and custom, European prejudices and strong national antipathies, he would be an Argentine in heart and soul and by predilection to-morrow, did Argentines themselves command his respect.

The experiment of self government in these countries has not proved signally successful, and provincial interests and jealousies have so long held sway that until now the Confederation was so essentially provincial, the term Argentine was, perhaps, as unintelligible to the native as to the 'gringo.'

As it is almost impossible to deal with this subject from our point of view without offending national sentiments, we abstain from detailing the very many reasons why foreigners avoid mixing in public affairs; suffice it to say that, when Argentines elevate their political tone, reform abuses that stare us all in the face, and establish a sound, moral, economical Government, which they themselves will respect and esteem, foreigners will not be slow to become naturalized with a view to taking as prominent a part in public affairs as they do in the United States.

It may be that the general ease and material prosperity of the emigrant in the Plate forms an impediment to his political success. He lives under a climate which predisposes him to happiness and content. We know of no land more favourably circumstanced for the immigrant than the Plate. There are no artificial restraints or social tyrannies; the mass of the people are more intelligent, more educated, better clothed and fed than the parallel classes of any European population. The very fact of a large portion of them having voluntarily emigrated from Europe and accepted all the hazards of a new career in an unknown land, argues in them a certain moral and intellectual superiority. A Buenos Ayrean mob, as we have often said, is superior to any mob to be seen in Europe, and nothing strikes the stranger more than the well-fed, well-dressed and decent aspect of the people in the streets. The great check is the absence of any definite sentiment of country: if we except the Irish sheepfarmer, the foreign population in the Plate is unattached to the soil. The sheepfarmer buys his estancia and his lands, not to give him a hold in the country or representation in its affairs, but to feed his sheep. The Italian, as a class, is essentially adventurer, and whether Italian or Irish, English, German or French, they all take a purely selfish interest in the affairs of the country, and the emigrant, although one of the chief factors in Argentine prosperity, is no citizen.

To make the foreigner an Argentine we must elevate the Government, not the 'gringo'; the fault of the present state of things rests far more with Argentines themselves than with the immigrant who, from the day he lands on the mole head, hears nothing but abuse of the Government and the public men: whether that abuse is merited or not, few, very few, of the thousands who crowd our shores ever discover or ever take the trouble to find out: but Europe becomes faster than ever the centre of their hopes and their longings, and they toil and labor and save up, without one spark of affection for the land that supports them, impelled by no other motive than to get out of it as quickly as they can.

Nevertheless, we hail with pleasure the discussion of this important subject by the Argentine press: it may lead to a clearer view of the causes which to the present have ostracised foreigners of property, education and independent opinion from their proper status in this country. In old Rome, despair of the commonwealth was reckoned the greatest vice of the citizen: possibly it is not so considered in B. Ayres, and this may account for the mingled apathy and disgust with which foreigners to the present have so persistently regarded Argentine politics.

IMPORTANT FROM MENDOZA

(From our own Correspondent.)

Jan. 16th, 1881

A commencement has been made on the survey of the T. A. line of Railway in this province and announced here by a telegram from Nat. Engineer Sr. Gordillo, dated La Paz 10th instant, without much flourish of trumpets, and this has been answered by the Minister of Government, Sr Barraquero, who wired back the following simple and sensible reply, 'Your advices received with great pleasure; the future prosperity of this province rests on this line of Railway, and that by your activity and energy the promise of His Excellency the President shall be fully carried out. Advise your colleagues that Governor has ordered the authorities of that town to render you every possible service and attention, and in case you require any information or antecedents from the Government, freely address your friend J Barraquero.

This is very important and interesting news for the Mendocinos, for these surveys once approved of and accepted by the Nat. Government, there need be no cause for delay, when the works have reached the capital of the province of San Luis, which it seems likely will be the case about the month of April or May next. It is also proposed that so soon as this desired point is arrived at the survey shall also commence on this side, starting from the base of the Cordillera towards La Paz, a distance something short of a hundred miles; and it is here very much indeed desired that the line may in its transit include the rising towns of San Martin and Lujan at least, if it does not touch at any other of the intermediate points of interest. San Martin is now the centre district of the cattle industry in this province and is rapidly growing in importance. Lujan may be called the 'Portada' or real entrance to the valley of Mendoza, and it is from hence the water supply from the rivers Mendoza and Junuyan is turned into this town and vicinity. Lujan has not yet, in spite of its favorable position and surrounding rich soil with a superabundant water supply, advanced much beyond being a petty village, but it only requires that its agricultural and mineral resources be developed by the employment of capital and introduction of immigrants to become, the moment it possesses facilities of communication, a point of great commercial importance. The coal mines in its vicinity are reported by competent authorities to promise a yield of inexhaustible quantities of this valuable mineral. It is very generally acknowledged by all mining adepts, amongst others by many experienced miners from Chile, who for many years have been employed in the mines on the Western falls of the Cordillera, that in addition to the coal deposits (already denunciados) copper and iron ores in extensive fields, besides gold and silver and other minerals are to be found on the mountain range or spurs of the Andes which limit the pampa on the side of Mendoza.

If we consider that the whole range of the Cordillera on its eastern fall, where it forms the natural boundary between Chile and this Republic, is well known to be—and it is but natural it should be so—fully as rich in mineral wealth as on its western fall, why should we not expect to find at the foot of the Tupungato riches equal to those found at the base of far-famed Potosi?

No wonder, therefore, that some little enthusiasm is felt here at the idea of railway communication giving us soon those facilities so much required for the transmission to the coast of our many valuable products, until now lying perfectly unexplored and useless to the nation.

However, unfortunately, too little interest or spirit of adventure is felt or shewn here on this subject, nobody seeming to care to call the attention of the general public to those acknowledged facts, and it is therefore not surprising if I, in my correspondence with you, again and again harp on the subject, as it will bear repetition, upon the chance of the facts becoming more extensively known through the large circulation of your popular journal both in America and Europe.

You may perhaps have noticed in the Mendozino paper El Constitucional that a proposal lies before the Chamber to reform the Constitution of the Province by the introduction of the 'Bi-Camarista,' or system of upper and lower Chambers, and by raising the judicial departments to the rank of an independent power, with so equal faculties to those held by the other departments; these are the only fundamental reforms proposed; the others are of minor importance, being more matters of form than of substance. This is said to be the only province of the Confederation which has not already long since taken this important step. The talented and patriotic Minister of Government, Sr Barraquero, is the initiator of this movement, as he has been of many other important changes introduced into the Administration for the benefit of the general public.

The military department is exhibiting considerable activity; the troops are being daily exercised and taken out for target practice at long range with the Remington; this practice is very much required, for the shooting is simply execrable in the extreme, the target being struck about once a week! Recruiting is also going on steadily, though the number required seems to fill up but slowly, seeing that Colonel Ortega has sent to San Juan for some thirty prisoners out of the jail there to complete it, he intending to march for the frontier, it is said, about the middle of next month. News has come in from that quarter that the commander of the district, Major Lopez, having come up with the Indians who recently made a raid on the lands of Messrs Day and Zapata, attacked them, killing 5 Indians and recovering all the captives and also the cattle which they had carried off.

Our agricultural prospects continue favorable; the threatened locust invasion has not yet taken place, and though isolated individuals of the species are constantly to be seen, all fear of a serious invasion is considered as over. The grape and other fruit crops are at last rapidly advancing to maturity, having been long kept back by a continuance of cold S.W. breezes, which have, at the same time that they produced an unusually pleasant cool atmosphere, though retarding vegetation, much contributed to drive the crowds of locusts in another direction. We are gradually looking more cheerful. We have now cheap bread (new wheat is at $2½ per fanega, flour $3 arr.) abundance of fruit, and though meat still continues high in price—for Mendoza—there is no want of occupation for the labouring classes, at wages which enable them to provide themselves freely with their customary necessaries?

We are here also most anxiously waiting to learn the result of the Chilian expedition to Lima; meanwhile everybody is cautiously silent. However, should the expected news come of the triumphant entry of the Chilian army into Lima, I expect we shall have outcry enough.

The bathing season is now at its full height, and at the village of El Challao, situated at the foot of the hills, about three leagues distant, whence the supply of drinking water comes to this city, a number of the wealthy families are passing the season, and holding regular evening entertainments with music and dancing. It is a pretty little place with a clean stream of water running through it, proceeding from a natural spring in a cleft of the rock. The same stream of water also supplies the Colon baths, close to the town; these are very neatly kept, and prove a greater boon to the middle and lower classes, being easy of access on foot, and at the moderate price of one real, with a compartment per individual.

A very great and advantageous improvement has lately been introduced here by the Government establishing a Monte-de-piedad on the European principle, and in due form, and in charge of the Mudicipality, thus doing away with the licensed pawnbrokers, whose extortionate charges weighed most heavily on poor classes, besides having become perfect deposits for stolen property.

Your obedient servant,

EDITOR'S TABLE.

To-morrow, the Feast of the Purification of the Virgin, will be a strict holiday. Amongst the amusements for the day are races at the Hippodrome, cricket, &c.

The heat on Sunday and yesterday was the most oppressive as yet experienced this summer. The lazy wind came from the north, laden with all the depressing miasma of the tropics, and River Plate humanity sickened under it. The heavy rain on Sunday night did nothing to cool the air, and the thermometer was even higher yesterday than on Sunday. It was a day for Sydney Smith's remedy.

Two new departments in the German Hospital will be inaugurated to-morrow, with appropriate ceremony.

Amongst the fashionable arrivals at Montevideo we note the name of Chang, the Chinese Giant, whose name is familiar to a great part of the world for years past, although he has never paid the Plate a visit before. This distinguished individual is 8½ feet high, in perfect proportion, and is said to be as polished as he is high, and to have very lofty views of things in general. We suppose we shall have the pleasure of welcoming him on 'Change shortly.

The report that the 1st Foot made good musketry practice at Palermo on Friday turns out to be a pure delusion. Out of 705 shots fired only 48 hit the target. Tell it not in Gath.

Dr Gil is the new Governor of San Juan, and Dr John Sarmiento vice-Governor.

The news from Chile is that General Baquedano is the most popular candidate there for the Presidency, and is almost certain to be returned at the next election.

The Cordobeses are again talking of a railway to the Caleras, and hope that either the National Government or the Central Argentine Railway Company will oblige them by making it. It is only a matter of ten leagues, and the good people of Cordoba ought to have enough money to get up a little joint-stock company to make such a little line.

We knew it. The Hughes Colony in Tennesse, United States, which was to have effected such wonders, has met the same sad and sudden fate as the famous Henley Colony did here, and for the same reason—the 'emigrants' being all impecunious gentlemen, retired cavalry officers, disappointed barristers and others whose ideas of farming, if they had any at all, were more theoretical than practical. Mr Tom Hughes's collapse seems to have been just as complete as Mr Henley's. Colonization with such materials must always collapse.

We much regret to learn that the last mail has brought the sad news of the death of Mr, Dillon, father of Dean Monsignore Dillon. Dean Dillon's legion of friends will join us in offering him sincere condolence on the sad event.

Rosario is said to be inundated now with false Bolivian 'cuatros:' in fact, a genuine one is the rare exception, and there is a demi-semi panic amongst small traders and others who have been 'sold' by the forgers.

The 'Cycada-aptera,' first cousin to the 'Phylloxera,' has now joined his relative in the work of destroying the vineyards of France, and is said to be the more active partner in the business. When the railway to Mendoza is completed we can snap our fingers at our French wine-merchants. Chile is also becoming a source of some supply, and in Montevideo there is already a considerable sale for Transandine 'vino.'

A policeman in the last stage of inebriety peeled off his clothes in Calle Paraguay the other day, made a bed of them, and slept the sleep of innocence till he was discovered by a servant-girl going to market and handed over to his brother in arms at the corner.

The Provincial Constitution is to be again reformed. The Senate passed a bill to this effect on Saturday, and fixed March, 1882, as the date to begin the discussion, so the orators will have plenty of time wherein to prepare their speeches.

A peon at Almagro won 3,000 patacons gold in the Caridad Lottery last week: he borrowed the money to pay for the ticket.

The Montevidean papers announce that both Blancos and Colorados are now up to their eyes in preparations for a fierce struggle at the next Presidential elections. The old story.

President Roca paid a visit of inspection to the Policia last week, and several improvements were ordered by H.E.

The Masonic Hall at the Boca is to be sold by auction.

The Hotal Pascual at Mercedes is to be removed to the premises formerly occupied by the Laviaguerre Hotel.

Our go-ahead colleague Mr Bennett, proprietor of the New York Herald, has chartered one of the many cables across the North Atlantic for the 'exclusive' use of that paper. It is hard to see how this can pay, even with the immense public to work on in the United States.

A young fellow who lives with his mother and brother at the Recoleta found a door open on returning home at night, and, suspecting that robbers were about, he took a sword and went to look for them. Presently he saw a man creeping towards him with a drawn dagger and at once cut him down. It was his own brother, on a similar errand.

The Progreso Club is to have a new locale. Mr Alvear's house in Calle Peru will be purchased and a splendid edifice erected on the site.

A telephone experiment between the Bolsa and Municipality took place on Sunday; it was most successful. Mr Arguello and Mr Saenz had a long conversation.

There was an awful storm at Montevideo on Sunday. A woman was killed by lightning and her body burned to a cinder. Great fetes are going on in honour of General Sarmiento.

We had a prodigiously long letter yesterday, from Yokohama, October 24th, from our roving correspondent Mr. Edwd. MacDonnell of Dunfeirth, Ireland, who left here in 1876 and has since then visited almost every known spot on the habitable globe. He has written to King Humbert for permission to join the Expedition to the South Pole, and expects to be here in August next, to join it at Montevideo. He says he expects to find "an indented Polar basin, with boiling rivers, and an awfully hot climate, great luxuriance, and very pretty girls," This is a decidedly new view of the South Pole, and a much more comfortable one than that which generally prevails.

It is really deplorable to see the state of some of the most central streets in the city. In Calle Alsina, between Lorea and Zeballos there are truly enormous and dangerous ruts, and the Municipal engineer should see to it before some fatal accident occurs.

We have to thank Professor San Pelayo for kindly sending us a copy of his 'Teoria del Solfeo,' in use in the Escuela de Musica, and which appears to us a very valuable work.

The latest news from Chile is of another expedition against Arequipa, and the blockade of Mollendo. Is the war over or not?

Grand benefit to-night at the Politeama for the South Pole Expedition.

Awful storm in Cordoba on Sunday. Great damage, and two people killed by lightning.

Professor Gould, the talented Director of the Cordoba Observatory, has been named corresponding member, in the Astronomical section, of the Academy of Sciences at Paris. A high honour for the Academy.

We have received the programme of the Nueva Revista, to be managed by Mr. Vicente Quesada. It is excellent, and, in such talented hands, the new magazine cannot fail to succeed.

The musketry practice ordered for the army began at Palermo on Friday. The 1st Infantry went at the targets first, at 300, 600, and 1000 metres. We are most agreeably surprised to learn that the scores were excellent, and that the Government will have to pay a formidable number of patacons, to redeem its promise that every soldier who hit the bull's eye twice out of three consecutive shots should get a hard dollar. The 7th of the Line were at practice yesterday.

Our 'American Cousins' are fairly 'off their heads' about the irrepressible Sarah. They have invented 'Sarah Bernhardt' bonbons, hats, and boots; her face is seen painted on all the plates in the crockery shops, and New York is literally flooded with her portraits, of all sizes. At the hotel where Mdlle. Sarah Bernhardt resides, an attendant is told off solely to take in the presents and bouquets, which are showered on her by admirers and by tradespeople who wish to obtain a visit from the celebrated actress. Already a room set apart for these tributes is half full of articles of every conceiveable kind. 'Sarah Bernhardt' cigars are sold at high prices, while those formerly dedicated to a famous prima donna, who shall be nameless, have receded in value.

The following particulars about the garrison of Ireland are interesting at the present critical juncture:—"A reliable calculation of the number of troops now in Ireland gives a total of 25,700 men. This includes eight regiments of cavalry and twenty-five battalions of infantry, besides artillery and 'departmental' troops. The Royal Irish Constabulary numbers, exclusive of the Dublin Metropolitan Police, 11,300 men. We have thus an armed force in Ireland of 37,000 men actively employed in amicable attendance on the Land League. The 2d Battalion of Grenadier Guards, commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Smith, has been ordered to hold itself in readiness for special service in Ireland, but what part is at present undecided. The quarters in and around Dublin—the Royal Barracks, Beggar's Bush, Island-bridge, Ship street and Linen-hall—are now fully occupied—but the constant movements of troops which are daily being ordered from the capital will, it is understood, provide for the accommodation of extra reinforcements should the necessity arise. By the first day of January the Irish garrison will number about 30,000 of all arms, and it is noteworthy that not a single regiment bears an Irish designation."

The new 'Crystal Palace Theatre' in Calle Florida is to have a movable roof which can be taken off in summer, for 'al fresco' entertainments. There will also be a Rink for skating, with a glass floor, on which real skates can be used, a garden with superb fountains, etc. The front on Calle Florida will be all of glass. There are no Paxtons in Buenos Aires, and it is much to be feared that a glass structure in a narrow street will turn out the reverse of beautiful.

SCOTCH SCHOOL

To the Editor of the Standard

Dear Sir

While thanking 'One of them' for the very flattering remarks in regard to myself, which appeared in yours of Saturday 29th inst. I must say, I fail to see the object of that letter. Not knowing him in 'propria persona' I cannot say if his sincerity has ever been called in question, certainly there was not in my previous letter the slightest indication of such a suspicion.

'One of them' offers to give £50 a year and suggests the advisability of getting nine others of the same amount so as to make up £500. For what is this amount wanted? Has not the school a foundation? Do not the pupils pay fees? or does he intend to make it a free school?

Although asking the above questions I do not wish 'One of them' to answer through the medium of your columns, as I observe by Mr Runciman's letter of Sunday that there is at last a probability of a meeting being called to deliberate on the subject, and I shall most likely get from himself (if he exists in the flesh) the requisite information.

I am dear Sir

Yours respectfully

R. B. McKinlay

To-day being the last day of the month, the liquidation absorbed everything. Since the closing of the 'Oficina de Cambios' the brokers never had so large a liquidation as to-day; the 'vencimientos' on the board amounted to 16,176,500 pats., but if we add the sales after hours the total liquidation must have reached 20 millions, a figure unparalleled in the history of this market. Many parties attribute this greatly increased business this month in gold to the change in the Bank Board, but we consider this an error, still we report it as matter spoken of on 'Change. Gold opened at 29.45, d opped to 29.35, and closed at 29.40. Cash sales 767,656, and for end of February half a million sold at 29.25-20. The sales of the day reached 1,417,656 pats At the liquidators' table piles of checks, stocks and paper money showed the heavy business going on; the new liquidator hit upon the heaviest of all liquidations for his first month; 5 new hands were called in to help him, and all day long the crowd around his counter-mined us of the Paris Exhibition entry in May 1878.

Cedulas rule very firm, and the liquidation was also very heavy—4½ millions, a figure out of all proportion with the market or the stock. Prices at afterhours went up to 89.

National Bank Shares weak. Stock bought for the meeting sold out to-day. The vencimientos also very heavy, 12,567 shares The following were the prices established for the liquidation—

At the rate our gold business is progressing, we shall soon rival the New York gold room. Bets were made on 'Change to-day that in June next the Oficina de Cambios reopens.

We hold for to-morrow a most interesting letter from Rosario on the locusts. It seems that our friends up there have at last solved the question; the locusts can be done away with, being a question of law, method and cost.

In another column will be found a most interesting letter from our Mendoza correspondent, which tells us of all that is going on up there, and gives much useful information.

The mails from Chile bring further advices of the great gold mines discovered there. We extract the following—

The Revista del Sur of the 3rd says:—

"The gold fever continues. Thirty persons left on Saturday in the Bolivia. Reports represent the abundance of gold as something fabulous. It is said that a nugget of 13 oz. has been found.

The Lota of the 2nd says:—"A caravan of various persons belonging to this town leaves to-morrow for the gold mines. We are of opinion that the journey will be an unfruitful one, for if we are to believe the reports that have reached us, the grand mines are not worth a rap. Fancy a miner earning four reales only a day. Moreover, we are informed that the authorities have stopped all working, and that an armed force is on the spot to enforce the order.

By Chilian mail just in we learn that Mr Fred. Leybold, of Santiago, a well known merchant, committed suicide; and Mr Jas. Eastwood, of Sheffield, died at Santiago on January 7th, 1881.

For those who take an interest in the melancholy state of affairs in Ireland we recommend Lord Dufferin's letter to the Royal Land Committee published in the Times, Jan. 4th. We regret that owing to its great length we have not room for it in our columns.

In Montevideo the President has issued a decree that owing to the heavy deficit in the Treasury, until the Legislature provide funds to meet same the following suspensions of payments are ordered—

The Calderon for Rio Grande $f 1,500 do.

We note large shipments of wire from Montevideo to Rio Grande, which means that the estancieros there are wiring their camps.

The Archimedes sails to-morrow and takes full cargo, many passengers and a mail which closes at ½ past 12 o'clock.

Telegrams were received to-day from London announcing a large sale of Hard Dollar Bonds to arrive and ex coupon at 73 gold.

A new valuation of all property in this province will be begun on the 1st February and will hold till end of April. The juries to try cases of over valuation will sit in May; the chief object of the rule is to take in all the Government lands lately sold; most of the sheepfarmers complain of the very heavy tax they have to pay now on their lands.

The bids last week at the Municipality for the supply of kerosene astonished every one. It seems that all last year the Board has been paying 11 m/c per lamp too much for the lighting, and this for 1,900 lamps per month comes to a pretty large amount at the end of the year.

The Water Board, it is reported, has sent orders to London for the construction of two large engines for the works here, and the National Government has placed at the credit of the board in London 400,000 pats. to pay for same. From what we can gather, with these engines the Water Board will be able to supply the city more freely with water, and also supply the Flores Road people, where there is great complaint, as on the Calle Larga Barracas all the quintas are supplied with water, whilst on the Flores Road a mule and a boy have to be kept constantly at work on every quinta at the pumps, norias, &c.

A letter from Antwerp, dated Dec. 30th, says:—"Cable advices from Melbourne, dated Dec. 24th, report shipments from Australia since the beginning of the season to 450,000 bales against 360,000 bales last year. Australia expects to ship from 10 to 15 o/o more this year, say from 100,000 to 130,000 bales. The European markets will soon be overstocked with wool, and a reduction on present prices is more than probable."

The Eco de Cordoba of 25th inst. publishes a long article on the Alvear lawsuit, defending, as it is naturally to be expected from a local paper, the presumed rights of the Province of Cordoba over the lands ceded by the Sta. Fe Legislature to Mr Alvear. The perusal of this long article strengthens our opinion that it is high time the respective Governments should make some definite arrangements between them, or Congress do so for them, in order to end all these disputes, which are most injurious to all concerned, scrupulously respecting at the same time the old settlers, in the possession of the lands they occupy. The Cordoba paper, just mentioned, states about the Buenos Aires lands sold by Cordoba, that there is no doubt whatever the Province of Cordoba will duly respect any bona fide holders of lands bought from Buenos Aires, should even Congress fix the limits of the Province of Cordoba so that their properties fall under the jurisdiction of Cordoba. This infers that the only difference for the estancieros concerned would be to have to pay the Contribucion Directa in Cordoba instead of Buenos Aires.

The Directors report of the Italian Bank recommends that in view of its widely extending business a stronger reserve fund be formed, as, notwithstanding the paralyzation of business by the war at the beginning of the half year, the earnings of the bank have been larger than the previous half year. As the lease of the present bank building will shortly expire, the Directors have bought a valuable site alongside whereon they intend to erect a bank building, which will prove an economy to the bank; and owing to the greatly increased business of the bank the Directors propose to create a sub-agency, in order to facilitate the despatch of business. The following is the bank balance-sheet for the past half year:—

THE £ S. D. OF NOVEL WRITING.

When Lord Beaconsfield's novel of 'Lothair' was published a few years ago, the most exaggerated rumours were circulated as to the number of copies which had been printed and the sum paid by the publishers to the author. The figures given, however, when submitted to the test of a short analysis, were found to be quite incorrect; and it is not likely that even now, when 'Lothair' has been for some 70 years in the hands of the publishers, as many copies will have been disposed of as will, after defraying the cost of printing and binding and the usual allowances to the trade, realise half the sum said to have been awarded to the author, which one account estimated at twenty thousand guineas, or a third less than according to some 'London correspondents,' has been paid to his Lordship for the copyright of the novel which is now engrossing all the talk in literary circles—'Endymion.' In one quarter it was recently stated that the trade had ordered thirty-five thousand copies of this work, and in another that the author was to receive the enormous sum of thirty thousand pounds for the book! These statements, I have reason to know, are grossly exaggerated, and there is no truth in the statement that one London daily newspaper had offered £1500, and another £1000, for the privilege of obtaining a copy of the novel a few days in advance of publication! The figures of fact, in regard to novels in general, and to 'Endymion' in particular, would prove quite sensational enough without any exaggeration whatever, if they could really be truly known; but such matters are, as a rule, religiously kept from the eye or ear of the public. It is, however, an undoubted fact, that considerably more than one-half of the novels which are originally published in the shape of three volumes, never yield their authors so much as a copper. This may appear a little startling, but it is quite true nevertheless. Of novels which make their first appearance before the public in that shape, there are not more, probably, than twenty in a hundred that ultimately recoup the money expended on them and those which yield a profit of a hundred pounds or upwards to their authors may be certainly counted on the ten fingers. Some authors when they essay novel writing pay the whole expenses of paper and print of their first production, while others it is not great literary secret, pay at least a portion of the costs incurred. Mr T. C. Newby, of London, who was in his day one of the largest publishers of novels, had several ways of dealing with authors who offered him their works. To a writer whose first work was really likely to sell he would propose to bear the whole expenses of paper, printing, and advertising, and give him £50 if a sale of 500 copies should be attained, a result which occurred perhaps once in about six trials. With other authors, his plan was to take all the risk, print a number to be agreed upon, and then divide equally between writer and publisher whatever profit might accrue; in all such cases the author was of course borne harmless.

When the plan of publishing novels in shilling parts became fashionable, several novelists, notably Dickens, Thackeray, and Charles Lever, obtained by that means considerable sums for the work of their brain, and when it became usual to run novels though the pages of popular magazines and other periodicals, the author secured an additional chance of adding to his earnings, because many persons who had only been able briefly to glance at the magazine were glad to send to the library in order to obtain a quiet and uninterrupted perusal of the whole work. Latterly some of the more enterprising newspaper proprietors have paid considerable amounts to one or two of our popular novelists, as much in some instances as £100, I believe, for the privilege of running a story through the weekly issue of their paper, and in cases a number of newspapers have of late adopted the plan of joining together in order to obtain such a story from a popular novelist as will prove likely to sustain or probably enhance the circulation of their weeklies. Or, to put the case more correctly, one or two novelists have of late years been content to be farmed in this way for serial publication. Brokers in literary property have arisen who arrange such matters, so that, now-a-days, readers of our penny weekly journals are able to read the best productions of such novel writers as Black, Braddon, Wilkie Collins, James Payne, or Trollope from week to week. The author in such cases does not part with his copyright, and can, therefore, when the story has been exhausted in the newspapers, arrange for its reappearance in the orthodox fashion of a three-volume novel, by which he may further add to the dollop of guineas which it has already produced.

One of the characters in the novel of 'Endymion,' Mr St Barbe (said to be intended for Thackeray), gives us a hint of how much a novel is indebted for its sale to circumstances. 'If I were the son of a Privy Councillor,' says St Barbe, 'these demons Shuffle and Screw would give me £500 for my novel, which now they put in their beastly magazine and print in small type, and do not pay me so much as a powdered flunkey has in St. James's Square.' That statement must, of course, be taken 'cum grano salis.' The proprietors of a popular magazine have before now paid two, and sometimes as much as three, guineas a page for the mere use of a story, which is very good remuneration of itself, even if the author did not besides in many cases pocket a couple of hundred pounds by its being republished for the circulating libraries.

Recurring to 'Endymion,' I am able to say that the number subscribed for by the libraries before the day of publication was not more than 7000 copies; and it may be explained that three-volume novels, as a rule, are only bought by libraries and book clubs. In the present case Mudie took nearly half the impression of 'Endymion.' The price, a guinea and a half, places them beyond the reach of the general public. The public will purchase the six shilling edition of 'Endymion,' but the sale at first will be as I have indicated. The £ s. d. of novel publishing is pretty much as follows:—The stated price for the three volumes is £1 11s. 6d, from which a deduction of one-third may be made to represent the trade allowances and discounts, whilst the cost of producing the work (which consists of 1014 pages, of 25 lines to each page), as regards paper, printing, binding, and advertising, may be set down as costing about half a guinea per copy, leaving for the remuneration of the author and the profit of the publisher the remaining half-guinea of the published price of £1 11s. 6d; so that the 7000 copies of 'Endymion' known to be subscribed for will yield only 3500 guineas! The author of 'Endymion,' however, will undoubtedly receive for himself at least double that sum; but taking it for granted that an edition of other 3000 copies will be called for in its present shape, that will only add 1500 guineas to the amount. If the noble writer, therefore, is to receive 8000, or, as some still maintain, 10,000 guineas, it will have to be realised from the 6s. edition, or from some even still cheaper editions, which will ultimately be issued and which will require to sell in tens of thousands to make up the figure. The profit realised on each copy of the 6s edition will not be more than 2s, or £100 for each thousand sold; and there will therefore require to be a sale of 50,000! These figures, however, are only given for what they are worth. The cost of production may not at present be quite a third of the gross price, while the trade allowance may perhaps be a shade less than I have calculated; but publishers do not work for nothing, and it is not unreasonable to think that if the author is to receive a sum of £10,000, the publishers will look to make at least a fourth of the amount. With the foregoing figures to guide him, the reader will see how absurd many of the statements are which have been put forth about 'Endymion.'

TREN ESPRESO IDA Y VUELTA

Habiendo vendido el magnifico y valioso establecimiento conocido por Blandengues, al Sr D Benito Lando y no habiendo entrado en esa venta los ganados finos de todas las especies, el propietario nos ha autorizado para proceder a su realizacion en remate publico, en lotes pequeños al gusto de los compradores.

Como las haciendas de que se trata son casi en su mayor parte finas y cuya venta demandara mas tiempo necesitandose como es consiguiento mas de un dia de remate, y en el deseo de que los señores que quieran asistir a el, puedan hacerlo con toda comodidad, hemos creido conveniente fijar la gran feria para los tres dias de Carnaval es decir los ultimos dias del entrante mes de Febrero, y en oportunidad anunciaremos el dia y hora de la salida del tren espreso. El establecimiento Blandengues es celebre por sus crias finas y aunque nunca ha presentado sus productos en los remates que se dan en la ciudad.

Todos los criadores de la Republica saben que alli no se han encomiado dinero, ni se han ahorrado gastos para estar a la vanguardia de los primeros establecimientos del pais, y asi es que desde muchos años atras se han introducido alli los mejores animales que se necesitaban para el refinamiento de las razas tanto lanar como caballar, yeguarizo y vacuno de todo lo cual hay animales especiales, ya sean puros como mestizos.

Las especies que existen en 'Blandengues' se componen de majadas, tipos de cabaña en ovejas y padres puros Rambouillet de la Cabaña Imperial, hoy Nacional de Francia, majadas Lincoln servidas por carneros puros importados directamente de Europa, majadas finas Rambouille, yeguas puras Normandas, yeguas puras sangre de carrera importadas de Inglaterra. En esta raza (la yeguariza) hay animales notables y de gran merito, de distintas razas, servidas por magnificos padrillos puros introducidos directamente de Europa y lo mejor que ha venido al pais.

En el ganado vacuno mestizo hay animales de mucho merito, y en cuanto a lo puro, hay vacas, vaquillonas y toros de la raza Durham que estamos seguros no dejaran nada que desear. Al anticipar este aviso a los senores hacendados tanto de esta Republica como de la Oriental e Imperio del Brazil, lo hacemos con el objeto de que se vengan preparando para este ramate que podemos reputar como el mas importante que se ha dado hasta hoy entre nosotros de ganados finos de todas las especies.

Hoy que esta demstrado de una manera evidente que la riqueza de nuestra tierra consiste en la ganaderia, y que cuanto mas nos dediquemos a su refinamiento, tanto mas aumenta la riqueza publ ca y privada por el valor que toman las especies y los campos, nos parece oportuno llamar la atencion de los Sres. Hacendados, para que con tiempo se preparen a adquirir animales finos de toda especie nacidos en el pais e importados directamente, ya aclimatados y que no se ofrecen todos los dias en venta.
